A Winter Prayer

Wonderful God,
at the beginning of everything, you said, 'Let there be light' and there was light and life in all the earth.

And when men and women had grown tired, weary of the darkness of anxiety, confusion and sin, you came into that darkness, in Jesus, the true light who lightens everyone born into the world.
Once again it is dark - not just dark at midnight but dark within and among us:
the darkness of doubt and fearfulness, of warfare and hunger and illness, the darkness of conflicting voices, the darkness of death.

Once again, we welcome you bending to low to creep in among us, not forcing, not shouting, too gentle to even flicker our candle flames.
Make your home among us again, we pray;
be our guest, in heart and home and city, in the empty, howling wastelands of our times, and light up our world once again with new hope
and the new life that faith in you still brings.
We pray in Jesus's name, and for his sake. AMEN
